COOPERSURGICAL® ACQUIRES OBP™ MEDICAL

Trumbull, Conn. (May 3, 2021) — CooperSurgical announced today the acquisition of obp Medical, including its portfolio of single-use illuminating vaginal speculums, anosscopes and laryngoscopes. The acquisition demonstrates CooperSurgical's focus on providing impactful solutions that address providers' needs.

obp Medical's self-illuminating devices are designed to maximize clinical efficiency and functionality by seamlessly integrating advanced illumination in commonly-used devices. The acquisition includes a comprehensive portfolio of all-in-one lighted vaginal speculums, anosscopes and laryngoscopes. Each comes ready for use with an integrated LED light source, eliminating both the need for a separate light at the bedside and the expense associated with reprocessing.

"obp Medical's suite of self-illuminating devices has been extremely well-received by providers. We're thrilled to make them part of our offering to hospital and practice-based women's health providers," said Holly Sheffield, President of CooperSurgical. "Adequate visualization is critical to diagnosis and treatment. These products will facilitate improved patient care worldwide."
